Dear Mr. Howard.

Many thanks for your kind letter of April 8th. Your informations are always of great interest to me, and I would to-day gladly answer you with a longer letter, if I would not need every minute available for my preparations for a trip to Europe.

I am leaving a day after to-morrow and will visit England, France, Austria, Poland and Russia. But it will merely be a pleasure trip, although I am deeply interested to learn about the musical conditions abroad. Of special interest to me will be Russia, from where so many contradicting reports came, that it will be interesting to collect personal experiences.

As soon as I return from abroad I will write you again. In the meantime I wish to be excused for not writing more, as your lovely letter deserves a longer answer.

With best wishes, I am, as ever,

sincerely yours,

Godowsky
